

MARITIME STRIKE PRESSURE ON WSB

INGHAM GRAND JURY STARTS BRIBE HEARING

FIRST STEPS TAKEN TO BRING HEMANS IN AS WITNESS

BY ROBERTA APPLGATE

Lansing, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Ingham county grand jury today took its first steps to bring back Charles F. Hemans from Washington to testify in the bank bill conspiracy examination, which started today, when it prepared a memorandum for the federal district attorney in Detroit.

Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash, the grand juror, said he had been asked for an outline of Hemans' importance to the case against 19 bankers and legislators, accused of conspiring to block passage of a 1941 anti-branch banking bill.

A memorandum, describing Hemans as a key witness who left Michigan for Washington and then informed grand jury officials that he would not testify was mailed today to the United States district attorney in Detroit.

FBI To Investigate

Judge Coash said he understood action against Hemans might be taken under a new federal law, effective August 6, which makes it a felony for a witness in a criminal case to leave the state.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas P. Thornton said in Detroit that he has advised Judge Coash to file a formal complaint setting forth the manner in which, in Judge Coash's opinion, Hemans has violated a federal statute, providing that anyone who crosses a state line to avoid giving testimony in a criminal case is guilty of a felony and may be extradited.

When such a complaint is received, Thornton added, the FBI will investigate and the U. S. attorney's office will base its decision on the FBI report.

As the examination opened, Special Prosecutor Richard B. Foster asked the dismissal of charges against three former legislators who were originally indicted with the other defendants because they had been granted immunity from prosecution and would be state witnesses.

They are former State Senator Leo J. Wilkowski, and former Representatives Francis J. Nowak and William G. Buckley, all Detroit Democrats.

Two Testify

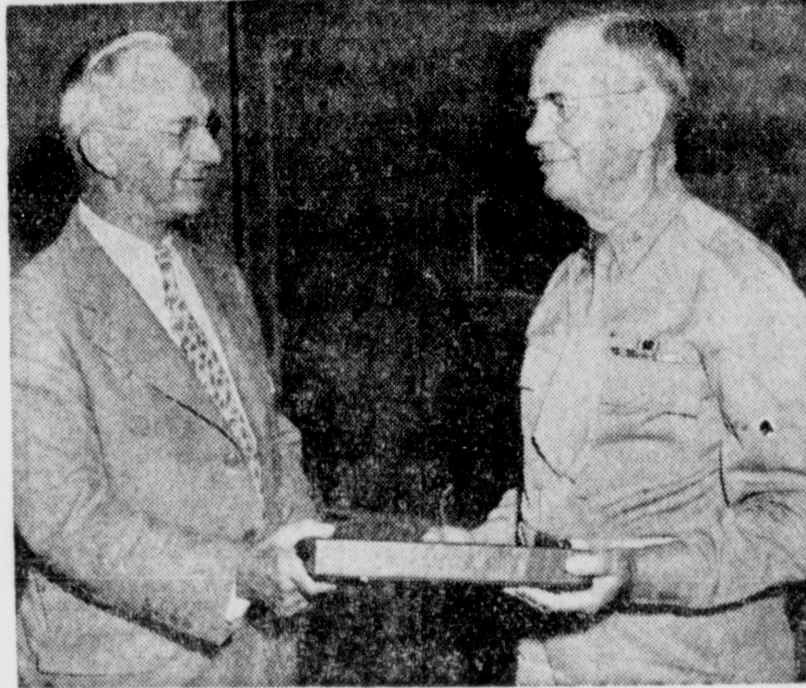

Foster also filed orders of immunity from prosecution for Hemans, former Representatives William Green, Hillman Republican, and George O. Harma, Atlantic Mine Democrat, and Harold Vandenberg, Kalamazoo Paper company official.

Fred L. Chase, secretary of the Senate, and Myles F. Gray, former clerk of the House of Representatives, were Foster's first witnesses. Chase traced the history of the anti-branch banking bill and allied measures through the Senate over repeated objections from Eugene L. Garey of New York, counsel for all the bank representatives except Ballard, that the testimony was immaterial and incompetent. Gray had just started his testimony when court adjourned for the day.

Chester P. O'Hara, Wayne county circuit judge and special prosecutor for the Ferguson grand jury, is sitting as examining magistrate to determine whether the defendants should be held for trial.

Other defendants are Howard J. Stoddard of East Lansing, president of the Michigan National Bank system; Charles B. Bohn of Detroit, chairman of the board of the Michigan National Bank and chairman of the board of the Bohn Aluminum and Brass corporation.

No Atomic Autos Yet; Motor Fuel Improved

BY HOWARD W. BALKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter

Chicago, Sept. 10 (AP)—Despite atomic power, Americans will continue to do most of their automobile riding and flying on gasoline or other petroleum fuels for another twenty-five years, the American Chemical Society was told today.

This prediction was made by Bruce K. Brown, of the Standard Oil company of Indiana. War secrets of gasoline production to back up the predictions were reported by Brown and several other petroleum chemists.

He declared that with the new methods, three quarters of all the petroleum that comes out of the ground can be converted into gasoline. He added that last year forty-one per cent of the petroleum in America actually was converted into gasoline.

The greatest wartime change was in the long-famous American gasoline cracking process. The old cracking, that converted sluggish oil into active gasoline, was done by heat and pressure.

Just before the war "cat" cracking was added to the old methods. "Cat" means catalyst, a fine powder or small bead, added to the oil stills. These powders or beads usually are silica plus aluminum, zirconium and magnesium, and most important of all, a tiny bit of water.

When the oil runs through them, in the form of gas, far more gasoline is made than without the "cats." These "cat" gasolines are more powerful and far more versatile.

Brown said that contrary to common fears, there is no need of gasoline supplies yet in sight. He declared that since World War One the United States has produced twenty-five billion barrels of crude oil and still has in excess of twenty-billion barrels proven and known to exist.

The agriculture department reported that meat production last week dropped 73 per cent below the preceding week, from 269,000,000 pounds to 74,000,000 pounds. The drop reflected a sharp decline in farm marketings of livestock, which were put back under controls September 1.

The Retail Meat Dealers Association estimated 60 per cent of Chicago's shops were without meat. An estimated 90 per cent of New York City's meat dealers had no meat of any kind. Los Angeles reported the most critical meat shortage in its history. Oklahoma City reported supplies only 5 per cent of normal.

Other reports of severe shortages came from New Orleans, Boston, Newark, N. J., Philadelphia and Cleveland. Reports of adequate supplies came from Chattanooga, Portland, Ore., Spokane, Wash., and Little Rock, Ark.

MEAT SUPPLY SHORT UNDER NEW CEILINGS

FAMINE EXPECTED TO LAST OVER A MONTH

(By The Associated Press)

Meat went back under retail price ceilings yesterday (Tuesday) but most cities faced a severe shortage which packers and wholesalers predicted would grow progressively worse for the next few weeks.

Recent record livestock marketings, before price controls were reinstated, brought a temporary abundance of meat in the butcher shops but heavy retail buying over the weekend left little but cold cuts, fish and poultry in the coolers.

George Dressler, secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said many butcher shops were planning to close for a week at a time to accumulate supplies for a few days operations. When these are gone, he added, the shops will close again until new supplies are accumulated.

Restaurants Affected

A spokesman for the National Restaurant Association said the pinch of supplies would affect restaurants in about a week. Uncertainty of future price policies, he said, discouraged most restaurants from stocking up when meat was available.

The dwindling livestock receipts in the nation's principal markets caused widespread layoffs of workers. About 5,000 were laid off in Omaha and nearly twice this number in Chicago. About 4,000 Pittsburgh packinghouse workers were told they might be "furloughed."

An agriculture department spokesman in Washington predicted the meat famine would end in a month or so. The spring pig crop normally begins coming to market in late October and a substantial movement of cattle from the range and midwest markets also is expected within 60 days.

Maine Republican Sweep Good Omen, GOP Leaders Say

(By The Associated Press)

Maine's reelection by big majorities of a full Republican ticket was interpreted by GOP yesterday (Tuesday) as a continuation of what they called a "national trend," while Democrats said they were not disturbed.

Candidate-picking proceeded in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Louisiana and Colorado.

Chester Bowles, former OPA and economic stabilization director, threw his hat into the Democratic gubernatorial ring in Connecticut. Bowles issued a statement assailing what he termed a Republican "campaign to destroy the effectiveness of price controls."

Connecticut Democrats will choose candidates for governor and senator next week. Two others have announced for governor—Lieut. Gov. Wilbert Snow, a Wesleyan university professor, and Thomas J. Dodd, U. S. prosecutor in the Nuremberg war crime trials.

Connecticut Republicans in convention yesterday nominated Dr. James L. McConaughy, a former Wesleyan president, for governor, and three-term Governor Raymond E. Baldwin for the U. S. Senate. Rep. Joseph E. Talbot withdrew from the gubernatorial race before the convention opened.

Rhode Island Republicans in another convention picked Governor Dyer of Portsmouth, a former lieutenant colonel in the air force, for their senatorial candidate, and John G. Murphy, former state legislator, for governor. Democrats hold their convention tomorrow. They are expected to choose between U. S. Solicitor General J. Howard McGrath and Superior Court Judge Robert E. Quinn, both former governors, for the senate.

Re-elected in Maine were U. S. Senator Owen Brewster and Gov. Horace Hildreth for second terms. Reps. Robert Hale, Margaret Chase Smith and Frank Fells also were returned for third, fourth and fifth terms, respectively. All are Republicans.

Brewster's ratio was 64 per cent of the total vote, or nine per cent more than his first senate victory in 1940. Hildreth polled 61 per cent, a decrease of nine per cent from the ratio by which he won the governorship two years ago.

Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, commented in a statement: "This confirms the increasing trend of a Republican sweep in the November election. All indications now point to Republican majorities in both the house and senate."

Brewster said the results indicate "a continuance of the Republican trend."

Arthur E. Summerfield, Michigan GOP national committeeman, told newsmen in view of the Maine majorities the Republicans of his state "now are unwilling to admit we will be defeated in any Michigan congressional district."

The first police action in a city-wide drive against squatters was taken in the Westminster section, seat of Britain's government, where police barricaded a door behind a man and seven women and refused to let them leave a commandeered apartment unless they promised to stay out. All eight sat tight, however, despite lack of food. They said they would leave when other accommodation was found for them. Meanwhile other squatters slipped in by back entrances.

Similar resistance met government announcements that eviction orders would be issued and furniture removed tomorrow from squatter flats taken over in a mass squatter operation last Sunday in the well-to-do Kensington section.

Attorney Resigns In Dispute Over Fairgrounds Bingo

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 10 (AP)—A dispute over the legalizing of bingo games at the Saginaw county fairgrounds led today to the resignation of city attorney Edwin W. Koepke.

The city council, climaxing a series of differences with Koepke, approved bingo games at the fairgrounds Monday over his protests. The police department and City Manager Carl Peterson ordered such games discontinued during a gambling drive some months ago.

In his letter of resignation, Koepke mentioned numerous "conflicts of opinion" between himself and the council on "purely legal matters" and added that "such a condition is untenable."

He became city attorney in October, 1941.

TITO WILL PAY U.S.A. DAMAGES

Indemnity Agreed Upon For 5 Fliers Killed In Yugoslavia

BY GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Yugoslavia has tentatively agreed to pay damages for the loss of five lives in the forced crashes of two unarmed American transport planes, the state department disclosed today.

Thus far, however, Marshal Tito's government has not consented to pay an additional indemnity for the loss of the planes which were attacked by Yugoslav fighters, Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton told a news conference.

Clayton has said several times that the United States is willing to end the dispute over the crashes if the indemnity issue is settled satisfactorily. He emphasized today, however, that the negotiations, being carried on in Belgrade by Ambassador Richard C. Patterson Jr., are far from conclusive to date.

The tentative agreement to pay damages for the lives and the question over the additional payment for the property loss constitute only the first official Yugoslav reaction to Patterson's preliminary presentation of the matter, Clayton said.

He declined to disclose the amount of the indemnity asked by the United States.

Some Washington diplomats told a reporter, however, that they understood this country was asking a sum somewhat less than $400,000.

Divorcee's Trussed And Weighted Body Is Found In River

St. Louis, Sept. 10 (AP)—The apparent absence of a motive handicapped police today in their investigation of the murder of Mrs. Irene England Elsing, pretty 27-year-old divorcee, whose trussed and weighted body was found floating in the Mississippi River, 19 miles south of here.

Mrs. Elsing, mother of two small children, disappeared last Wednesday while returning to her home in nearby Washington Park, Ill., from a movie at Belleville, Ill.

Two seven-pound sash weights were wired to her body and her knees and feet were bound by baling wire. When found yesterday the body, which bore no marks of violence, was believed to have been in the water about five days. A coroner's jury returned an open verdict.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. England, with whom she lived, told authorities she was divorced last January from Howard Elsing, a railroad switchman, who re-married shortly afterward. They had been married eight years and remained on good terms after the divorce, police quoted members of the family as saying.

Daily Lord's Prayer In Detroit Schools Voted By Board

Detroit, Sept. 10 (AP)—A proposal to require daily recitation of the Lord's Prayer in Detroit public schools was voted down today by the board of education.

Members of the Wayne County Mothers Club, sponsors of the plan, threatened to make a house to house canvass for signatures on a petition to put the matter to popular vote.

The committee to maintain separation of church and state contended that the prayer is interpreted differently by various religions and that any compulsory recitation might embarrass some students.

SHIP OWNERS WANT UNION'S DEMANDS MET

SECRET MEETING IN WASHINGTON MAY END CRISIS

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Bombarded with pleas to relax its wage curbs and thus end America's greatest shipping strike, the wage stabilization board tonight scheduled a secret meeting for tomorrow to chart its course.

The board can: 1. Vote to reconsider, or not to reconsider, its order limiting AFL Maritime Unionists to a raise of $17.50 a month. 2. If it votes to reconsider, decide whether to reverse the order which so angered AFL members that they have tied up every ocean port in the country since Thursday.

As time passed the strike threatened to become greater still, with warnings that firemen, cooks and stewards may join the striking seamen.

Conference Boycotted

Ship operators pleaded in a day-long session that the board let them meet union demands. The unions on strike, all of the American Federation of Labor, boycotted the meeting and let their picket lines take the place of argument.

Willard Wirtz, board chairman, told reporters that it is possible the board may decide tomorrow. At any rate, it will consider the whole picture in executive session beginning at 10:30 a. m. (CDT), he said.

The pressure being applied apparently did not include any from President Truman. Wirtz said in reply to questions that the board has had no communication from the White House.

Warning that the marine firemen, cooks and stewards may swiftly join the striking seamen were served on the board. From all sides, the board was told that the price of settling the strike is a ruling okaying the union's demands.

Seamen Stand Pat

First the AFL Seamen's Union, whose leaders boycotted today's hearings, stood flat on their stand that no ship shall sail from any ocean port until the demands are met.

Second, President J. B. Bryan of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, pleaded with the board to grant the demands, saying: "Before we know it we're going to have two more strikes on our hands, possibly the marine firemen and the marine cooks and stewards."

Finally, an assistant secretary of labor, Philip Hannah, reported that his personal negotiations have convinced him that "Unless there is a complete reversal, Lundberg won't send his men back to work."

(By The Associated Press)

The greatest strike-fueled crisis in the annals of U. S. shipping gripped the nation last night (Tuesday) as the wage stabilization board deferred action on maritime workers' mass protest against the agency's partial veto of a pay hike for AFL seamen.

The board meets at 10:30 a. m. (CDT) today in Washington to study the grave threat to government wage control policy.

The sixth day of the strike—already described by shipping quarters as the costliest in maritime history—found some of the nation's basic industries facing a shutdown due to the loss of vital

Sacred Heart PTA Votes Yearly Sum To Living Library

Munising—The sum of $35 will be raised each year by the Sacred Heart Parent Teacher Association for the purpose of establishing a living library fund, it was decided at the first meeting of the organization for this school year held Monday evening.

The meeting was held as a "welcome" meeting for the sisters of Sacred Heart school who are teaching here this year. Seventy parents, including two fathers, attended the meeting besides the Sacred Heart teachers.

The following chairmen were elected to serve on the various committees of the PTA for the following school year:

Program chairman: Mrs. Ernest Johnson; Hospitality chairman: Mrs. Irene St. Martin; Membership chairman: Mrs. Vienna St. Martin; Library chairman: Mrs. Lucille Strom; Music chairman: Sister Magdalene Therese and Publicity chairman: Mrs. Mardelle Gelbke.

A delicious lunch was served following the business meeting. The table was covered with lace and had candles and a floral bouquet as centerpieces.

Former Captains Are Recommended As Local Guard Unit Officers

Three Escanabans who served as captains in the army during the late war, Roy Johnson, Delor Perow, Willard Anderson, have been approved and recommended by the local examining board to serve as officers of Company C, the Escanaba National Guard unit being formed here, it was disclosed last night by Loren Jenkins to a Citizens' Committee which met to discuss plans for promoting the unit.

An Upper Peninsula officers' examining board is expected to take action on the recommendations this week.

Jenkins, former commanding officer of the National Guard unit in Escanaba and a colonel in the Corps of Engineers in World War II, outlined the plan of organization when a local company was formed here before the war.

He said that he expected there would be an enthusiastic local response to promote the guard unit when a nucleus of the organization was formed and sketched the excellent possibilities of making a civic center out of the headquarters in the U. P. State Fairgrounds exhibition building, which the company will use as an armory. It is expected that the local company will make a gymnasium there and will heavily promote athletics for its members.

All local civic and veterans organizations are being asked to join in a concerted effort of promotion.

There will be 136 men, including officers, in Company C when it reaches maximum strength. The men will be paid a full day's wage at the new army rates for one drill a week and the total payroll of the company will probably exceed $1500 monthly.

Not all of the members of the Citizens' Committee were present at the meeting last night but that group went on record as being 100% behind the move to reactivate the guard unit here and will meet again in the near future after official appointment of officers of Company C is made.

Both Johnson and Perow are former National Guard members and both rose to the rank of captain during their service in the recent war. Anderson too entered the army as a private and left the service with a captaincy. All three served overseas for long periods.

Atty. Robert E. Lemire, American Legion commander here who was appointed some time ago to head the work of re-activating the National Guard company, presided at the meeting last night.

DODGERS TAKE SIXTH STRAIGHT

Brooklyn, Sept. 10 (AP)—Behind the three hit pitching of Rube Melton and a ten-hit attack on four Cincinnati hurlers, the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Reds, 8-0 today for their sixth straight victory.

The win also temporarily reduced the first place National league margin of the St. Louis Cardinals to a game and a half.

Melton had little difficulty in handcuffing the weak hitting Reds. Dain Clay was the only Rhinelander to solve the Carolinian's offerings. Clay collected two of his teams' hits, a double in the first and a single in the sixth.

Brooklyn sewed up the game in the initial inning, jumping on starter Ed Heusser for three runs with Ed Stevens knocking in all three tallies by doubling with the sacks jammed.

The Dodgers drove Heusser to cover with a two run sortie in the second on singles by Bruce Edwards, Ed Stanky and a triple by Augie Galan off Relief Pitcher Ewell Blackwell.

Blackwell yielded another run in the third before holding the Dodgers hitless and scoreless in the next two frames. The Brooks picked up their final two runs off Clyde Shoun, third Redleg moundman, in the sixth. Edwards' single, Stanky's triple and a ground out accounted for the Brooks two runs.

Guilty Pleas Filed By 6 In Ann Arbor Gambler Conspiracy

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 10 (AP)—Six men pleaded guilty to an amended charge of "maintaining a game of chance" before Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., today while four others stood mute when arraigned on a six-count original grand jury indictment charging gambling conspiracy.

Charges against a tenth defendant, John Bitonti, Detroit, were dismissed on motion of special grand jury prosecutor William D. Brustar.

Those pleading guilty were sentenced to pay fines ranging from $1,000 to $2,000 or serve Southern Michigan prison terms of one year and 11 months to two years each.

They were Earl Marsh, John Loesch, Joseph Schultz and Joseph Deloney, all of Detroit, and Ahmed Abbes, also of Detroit, who threw himself on the mercy of the court. He is now serving a term at Southern Michigan prison.

Albert Ardash of Dearborn, who recently was extradited from Fresno, Calif., also pleaded guilty.

All paid their fines except Deloney who was expected to pay Wednesday.

SHIP OWNERS WANT UNION'S DEMANDS MET

exports and imports.

Mills turning out flour, steel and cement to fill huge overseas orders were forced to pile their output in warehouses with empty space vanishing rapidly.

Freight car loadings for seaports were banned at the outset of the strike by the association of American railroads, already struggling to relieve a shortage of about 100,000 cars a week.

The seaport bottleneck finally resulted in an order by postal authorities to withhold all mail with overseas addresses at inland concentration points.

Imports Badly Needed

In New England, sugar refiners, shoe and leather factories were running low on raw materials. Many of the 20 vessels tied up in Boston harbor were loaded with sorely needed imports.

Five wool ships, three vessels laden with hides and one sugar ship were among those waiting to be emptied of their cargo.

At New Orleans a spokesman said the Henderson Sugar Refinery, Inc., will be shut down within two or three days unless 10,000 bags of raw sugar aboard the SS Cape Nun are moved into the plant.

Ten burlap bag factories in the New Orleans area will close within a week unless 8,000 bales of burlap are unloaded from the SS Mobile City, one manufacturer said.

Pickets on the Erie Canal at Albany, N. Y., had tied up 400,000 bushels of grain moving down from the Great Lakes on barges.

U. S. Radcliffe (D-Md) told reporters he had discussed the crisis with President Truman, informing him that the strike now affects the whole economy.

Although he did not say he urged it upon the President, the Maryland senator declared: "I think the navy ought to operate the ships, if necessary."

The army and navy already were engaging in limited loading and harbor operations to aid government vessels hit by the strike, but there was no suggestion thus far of any government strike-breaking policy.

On the East coast, strike leaders broke their solid front at the behest of New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer and agreed to permit AFL tugboats to move barges containing food and fuel for the city's 7½ millions.

Supplies of some commodities in the vast Metropolitan area were critically short as a result of the double-barreled walkout by seamen and AFL truck drivers.

Crickets are kept in cages about their homes by many Japanese.

Not all of the members of the Citizens' Committee were present at the meeting last night but that group went on record as being 100% behind the move to reactivate the guard unit here and will meet again in the near future after official appointment of officers of Company C is made.

Both Johnson and Perow are former National Guard members and both rose to the rank of captain during their service in the recent war. Anderson too entered the army as a private and left the service with a captaincy. All three served overseas for long periods.

Atty. Robert E. Lemire, American Legion commander here who was appointed some time ago to head the work of re-activating the National Guard company, presided at the meeting last night.

Lowering Of Voting Age Discussed At Meeting Of Eagles

Two sides of the proposal for lowering the legal voting age in the United States were presented on a special feature program at a regular meeting of Escanaba Aerie 1088, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held last night. A vote on the question was taken after the discussions, the result not announced. The club also heard an explanation of a plan to broaden the coverage of social security to include farmers, read by Art Servant, president of the aerie.

Members of the lodge applauded reports given on the annual Eagles picnic and the Eagles booth at the state fair. Proceeds of these two projects will be used for improvements in the barroom of the Eagles club, including the installation of booths, already ordered for early delivery.

Final plans were announced last night for one of the big Eagles initiatives of the year, to be held next Sunday, Sept. 15, at 2 p. m. The Sunday date was selected to accommodate a number of candidates who were unable to be present for a weekday initiation.

EXPECT MORE LOCAL DUCKS

Opening Days Of Season Should Be Better In This Locality

Prospects are better this year for duck hunters, at least in this locality for the first few days of the season, it was reported yesterday by John Angulm, district conservation supervisor. The opinion is based on reports of conservation officers in the field, all of whom report slightly more ducks observed by them this summer.

The season on ducks opens Oct.

5 and continues open to Nov. 18. Angulm said the report was issued in response to a number of inquiries by duck hunters, who have been alarmed over prospects for the 1946 season because of national surveys which show the total duck population as declining.

The report that duck hunters may expect slightly better shooting on the opening day is supported by the observations of local fishermen and sportsmen, who say they have seen more local ducks this year than last. In the nesting areas along the bay shore fishermen have seen flocks of ducklings in considerable number, indicating a larger percentage of mature ducks in this locality.

Ammunition apparently is not going to be the problem this year that it was in former years. Majority of the dealers have a fair quantity on hand, and others say

Two Molenaar Brothers Study Alaskan Glaciers

BY PHIL RICH

Taku Inlet, Alaska.—The Molenaar brothers Dee and "K" (Cornelius), came here with us after being two of the first eight Americans to climb mighty Mt. St. Elias—18,008 feet high.

It took the group a month to do job and the Molenaars still wear those red beards—just like a page out of a book about the boys of '98. They are a couple of fine lads, here to do a glacier survey for the American Geographic Society, a professional organization. They have sold their pooled first picture rights to Life.

Zero Up There

They tell me that the peak of this great pile of stone is only about 100 to 150 yards wide; that the temperature was zero when they arrived on July 16 after a 19-day climb from the base.

This mountain is Alaska's second highest, McKinley with its 20,400 feet being the highest. Mt. St. Elias was climbed only once before and that time by an Italian with a party of 100 guides and porters. They used the easier Canadian side, too.

This group of eight, just finishing the climb, are all members of the Harvard Mountaineer club and American Alpine club. They started from Yakutat and, besides the Molenaars, the group included Maynard Miller, leader; William Latady, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kauffman; William L. Putnam, and an Army doctor, Lt. Ben. Ferris.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits all 5 of Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food.

You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore—25¢. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

21 Miles Of Ice

They had a 60 mile boat ride through ice chunks and rough water and a trek over 21 miles of ice fields to the base of the mountain.

They report lots of heather growing as a low bush and millions of wild flowers in bloom just above timber line. On the way up they crossed one glacier stream of icy water which came up to their chests. They rigged up a rope ferry to take their packs and some party members across. The glacial approach is 21 miles long but rises only 3,000 feet in that distance.

They packed their stuff into relay camps, traveling mostly at night and resting in the daytime. The Tenth rescue squadron of the Army followed them in and kept an eye on them and also provided drops of supplies as a practice maneuver. Only one "drop" was lost over a cliff. One box contained four apple pies from a Yakutat baker friend and parachuted down in good condition.

On Right Day

By coincidence they reached the peak on St. Elias day—the day in 1741 when Vitus Bering recorded his first sight of the Alaska mainland and named the peak in honor of the day's saint.

The group spent two hours on the very top, planted the American and Canadian flags, took pictures and made numerous recordings and tests. The trip down was not so pleasant as they ran into rain and snow. But they made it up and down with ropes, tied together, crampons on their shoes and digging out the steep parts step by step. Only one of their party could not go to the very top because of an old shrapnel wound which caused him trouble in breathing in the higher altitudes.

These Molenaars are quiet and timid almost to the point of being shy. They've been up the trail a couple of days writing. Now they're back in camp and right now are doing Mary's dishes.

We made some stills and movies of them with particular reference to their whiskers. They were good sports about it and in turn took our picture.

They've been climbing mountains all over the world from Mt. Blanc which is mighty high ("K" went up while in service, it Italy) to the highest mountain in Guam which is not so high... maybe 1,500 feet (which Dee did when with the coast guard.)

Memorial Services Held In Milwaukee For Captain Pepin

Tribute was paid to the late Capt. John R. Pepin, son of Mrs. A. J. Pepin, 409 South Eighth street, Escanaba, at memorial services held at Ward Memorial hall at Wood, Wis., on Sept. 4. The services were held under the auspices of the Medical Veterans Association of Milwaukee.

Principal speaker at the ceremony was Capt. James A. Sargent. The eulogy to Capt. Pepin was given by Lt. Col. Carl Beck. It was as follows:

"Dr. John R. Pepin, a captain in the Medical Corps of the United States Army was killed in action in Normandy, France, Aug. 9, 1944. A tall, energetic, black-haired, fun-loving individual, born of French parentage in the northern peninsula of Michigan, he went through life casting his refreshing sense of humor freely among his associates. While some staid men thought him youthful in his reactions, others saw his enthusiastic interests develop into initiative and self-reliance. A diamond in the rough, he was polished by his medical education and experience into a doctor who wished to practice with credit to himself and to his profession. It was his lot to be given the most difficult assignment possible during his army career—that of a battalion surgeon, a position where medicine had to be practiced as an emergency—split-second decisions were absolutely necessary to save the lives of those entrusted to his care. Not only did he have to practice medicine without the aid of diagnostic laboratory data, but he had to do it under the adverse circumstances of the front line; mud, filth and bullets. The task required a fearless, reckless individual who could place the lives of his patients ahead of his own well-being and his own life. John Pepin had been well selected for the position. He had the courage and ability. He proved it on the battlefield by sacrificing his own life to save that of another. While attending a wounded soldier on the battlefield, Dr. Pepin was killed. It was the supreme honor to die for his country while performing the duty to which he had been assigned—that of not killing as other soldiers were to do, but that of preserving the lives of his countrymen.

"Dr. Pepin graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1941 and interned at Columbia hospital and Mt. Sinai hospital in Milwaukee, Wis., from 1941 to 1942. His family, friends and colleagues remember him as a faithful husband and son, a true friend and a sincere physician."

The memories of five other Milwaukee doctors, who died in service, were also honored at the services.

Miss Jean Woodin, William Peterson Married In East

Arriving in Escanaba Monday to spend two weeks of their wedding trip were Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson, whose marriage took place Sept. 7 in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The bride is the former Jean M. Woodin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Woodin of Poughkeepsie. Mr. Peterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson of Escanaba. The couple exchanged vows before the Rev. William Shepherd at Christ Episcopal church. White gladioli arranged in bouquets with greens decorated the church for the ceremony. Wedding music was played by the organist, George Fowler.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a lace trimmed fitted bodice which was designed with a sweetheart neckline and Juliet sleeves. The shirred skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a prayer book arranged with a shower bouquet of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride's sister and maid of honor, Miss Helen Woodin of Poughkeepsie, was attired in pale pink, and Mrs. Walter Johnson, her other attendant, wore a gown of ice blue.

Their matching gowns were designed with three-quarter length sleeves, heart-shaped necklines, and full shirred skirts. They wore tiaras of plumes to match their gowns, and carried cascade bouquets of pink chrysanthemums and delphinium.

Reception Is Held

Walter Johnson attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers for the ceremony were Robert Woodin, brother of the bride, and Henry Grankowski.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the American Legion hall. Among those who attended the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson of Escanaba, parents of the bridegroom; and guests from Albany, Connecticut, and New York.

When the couple left later for their wedding trip to Michigan, the bride was wearing a gray wool suit with black accessories. Upon their return, they will reside in Poughkeepsie, where Mr. Peterson is employed by the Western Printing and Lithographing company.

The bride, a graduate of Poughkeepsie high school, was a member of the 1946 graduating class at the Vassar Hospital Training School for Nurses, in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Peterson, a graduate of Escanaba high school, served four years with the Army Air Forces, and was assigned to service in Greenland.

The couple arrived in Escanaba with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson, following a motor trip through Canada.

Cleverest of the season's sport innovations is the blanket-plaid wool stole, smart over slacks or a simple skirt. Generously cut, it's firmly anchored by a swashbuckling belt of self material.

Episcopal Diocese Plans Conference At Fortune Lake

A record attendance at the annual laymen's conference of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan to be held at Fortune Lake September 27 to 29, is anticipated, the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, said today in announcing completion of arrangements for the fall meeting.

An excellent program has been arranged and outstanding speakers engaged. George Drew, of Ishpeming, program chairman, has received word that Stuart Cushman, well known Chicago insurance representative, will be one of the conference leaders. Cushman who has devoted much time to work in the Diocese of Chicago, has participated in several diocesan conferences and has a reputation for approaching church problems from the layman's point of view.

Other leaders will be Mortimer Stetson, formerly of Ward, Wells and Dreshman, a firm engaged exclusively in fund raising, who is considered an expert in church finance and Horace M. Huffman Jr., Dayton, Ohio, manufacturer. Statson currently is heading a campaign to raise $10,000,000 for Kenyon college.

Bishop Page, Paul Chamberlain, Upper Peninsula manager of the social security board, and Drew will round out the speaking program.

The conference will open with a supper session Friday, September 27, and will continue until noon Sunday. There will be time for recreation in the afternoon.

"In consideration of the program that has been arranged," Bishop Page said, "there is reason to believe this will prove the finest of all conferences held at Fortune Lake. We are confident that large numbers will take advantage of this excellent opportunity to share their interest in the diocese and to plan for its future."

Sugar is not necessary in canning pears, Italian prunes or peaches. It is used only for sweetening, so why not can the available crop—and sweeten to taste when eaten. There is a possibility of sugar being available at a later date. So preserve these fruits while you can—and sweeten later. (Note: No sugar is used at any time in canning fruits for diabetics!)

SAWMILL MEN PLAN MEETING

Lumber Manufacturers Will Convene At Minocqua, Wis.

Lumber manufacturers from Michigan and Wisconsin, at the call of Charles E. Good, president, Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers Association will meet at the Minocqua (Wis.) Country Club on Sept. 13 and 14. The sawmill men will have many pertinent subjects for their deliberations. Lumber production prospects for use in veterans housing and critical manufacturing; interpretation of the new price control formula and its effect upon this region; logging equipment needs and shortages, and analysis of the National Lumber picture are among the high-lights.

Matt Niewenhous, Chief of the Lumber and Forest Products Division, Civilian Production Administration, Washington, D. C. will confer with lumbermen on the impending railway car shortage, advise on critical machines and materials required by loggers of the region, and explain the various Government "controls" on building materials.

A Word of Appreciation to Telephone Customers

For your willing cooperation this summer in helping to speed telephone calls over the crowded wires, Michigan Bell people are deeply appreciative.

The vacation season just ended was one of the biggest of all times. The telephone men and women in this area handled more local and long distance calls than ever before, providing good service for most people most of the time.

Because of material shortages, only a limited amount of additional telephone equipment could be provided to take care of the up-surge in calls. So we appealed to telephone users here to help by keeping their calls brief and avoiding the busiest hours. You responded wholeheartedly, cooperating every bit of the way to make the service as good as possible under the circumstances. You have our sincere thanks.

We are installing additional facilities throughout Michigan as fast as we can to hasten the day when telephone service will be of pre-war quality or better.

Religious Classes To Begin For Public School Pupils Soon

Religious instruction for some 700 third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils in Escanaba public schools at their churches, is scheduled to begin on Monday, Sept. 23, John Lemmer, superintendent of schools, reported yesterday.

Third and fourth grade pupils will be excused from school classes at 10:45 o'clock Monday mornings for approximately an hour of religious instruction while fifth and sixth grade students will receive the training at their parishes beginning at 9 a. m. Mondays, returning to their schools at 10:15 o'clock.

The board of education approved the plan, which enables public school students to be given religious instruction, some time ago at the request of local Catholic and Protestant pastors.

Bulletins outlining the plan, which must be signed by parents of the students, are being sent out now, the superintendent said.

Pioneer Marinette

Lumberman Is Dead

Marinette, Wis.—Charles Stewart Smith of 1119 Elizabeth avenue, Marinette, a resident of that city for 61 years, died Sunday at 9:35 a. m. in his home on his 82nd birthday anniversary. His entire family, with the exception of a son, George Smith of St. Louis, Mo., were with him when he died, having come home for their father's birthday. Mr. Smith had been in failing health for nine months.

Mr. Smith was born September 8, 1864, in Detroit. His parents died when he was a boy and he moved to Marinette with the late Peter Murphy in 1885. Mr. Smith spent all his life working for the lumber industry, starting as a packer in a shingle mill and later working as a filer and millwright in upper peninsula and eastern Wisconsin mills. Among the companies by whom he was employed were the Crawford Lumber company, Menominee Bay Shore Lumber company, Lieber and Noel Company, the Holt Lumber company and the Hermansville Lumber company.

Iron Mining Industry Seeks New Ore Supply

The seeming dilemma of Michigan's once-famed "Copper Country," where practically every mine is shut down—and many folks fear this is "for good"—is directing attention to that other of Michigan's scene and source of fabulous mined wealth, the "Iron Country," likewise in the state's Upper Peninsula.

Ask "Is the Iron Country petering out?" and you start a controversy. There are some who will readily reply "it is," and offer figures to prove it; and there are others who vigorously insist "it isn't" and with pad and pencil attempt to prove their point. So, while some dolefully predict another decade will see the end of Michigan's iron mining, the more hopeful ones assert "our great grandchildren still will be digging ore in the Upper Peninsula."

Three Iron Ranges

The answer as to who is correct lies locked in the future. At the moment it seems to rest between the guesses of the less sanguine and the hopes of the more optimistic. New technologies, discoveries of new ore fields, not an improbability, will assuredly extend the life of the iron district. But cold figures seem to add up to an ominous fact—exhaustion almost certainly will come before "our great grandchildren arrive to take up the task of digging."

The truth of the matter seems to be that a lot more iron ore has been extracted out of the pits and mines of Upper Michigan than even the district's most vigorous defenders concede remains to be mined.

The so-called "iron district" is made up of three sections—the "Marquette Range," centering in and around Marquette county; the "Gogebic Range," with Ironwood as its core and extending over into Wisconsin; and the "Menominee Range," roughly centered around the towns of Crystal Falls and Iron River.

Started In 1845

The Marquette Range is the oldest and perhaps the most famous. It dates from 1845 when digging was started at the Jackson mine near Negaunee. The first shipments were six barrels of ore on July 7, 1852, assigned to Newcastle, Pa. Incidentally, it was to get the ore from this mine to ship-side at Marquette that prompted the building of the first railroad in the Upper Peninsula in 1857. Today, the Marquette Range has 17 mines. From 1850 to 1945 inclusive it produced 234,711,613 tons of ore, and its reserves as of January 1, 1945 were estimated at 51,357,761 tons.

Yearly Inspection Of U. S. Postoffice Is Being Made Now

Three federal postoffice inspectors have virtually completed an annual, routine inspection of the U. S. Postoffice here. The men are E. R. Bunzweiler of Marquette, Frank McGee of Milwaukee and E. B. Richter of Appleton.

Copper Range Ry. To Abandon Run

Houghton—The Copper Range Railroad company announces that, effective Sunday September 15, the passenger train service between Houghton and McKeever to connect with the Milwaukee road "Chippewa" will be discontinued upon permission granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The last outbound train will leave Houghton Saturday morning and after the arrival of the inbound train Saturday night there will be no passenger service between Houghton and McKeever.

ENDS LIFE WITH RAZOR

Iron Mountain—John W. Fett, 70, unemployed bachelor and Spanish American War veteran living at 109 Stephenson avenue, and whose body was found in a garage at the rear of 119 Stephenson avenue at 2:30 Sunday morning, committed suicide by slashing his throat with a straight razor, according to the report of Coroner Frank Tondin.

inexhaustible. They say: "You can't pull an average of 15,000,000 tons a year out of the ground, as in war time, or even 10,000,000 which will be more nearly the peacetime rate, and expect not to get to the end of the rope shortly, especially when that end of the rope is represented by 134,420,714 tons in the reserves of the three ranges. Besides, not all that ore can be mined profitably. So the end's coming sooner than you think."

To which contention the more optimistic have two answers. Presently known reserves do not constitute the entire body of ore in the Upper Peninsula; they are certain exploration will uncover more when pressure for additional deposits compels such exploration; and they voice the magic word, "beneficiation" as proof that the last long ton ever taken out of the ranges will be a profitable ton to mine.

Rely On Beneficiation

Beneficiation is the mining man's $2 word for the various ways of treating ore to remove surplus silica, and otherwise to prepare it for the steel mills. Neither the word nor the process it describes are new. And, no matter what side of the argument you are on, you acknowledge that in beneficiation rests the future of iron not only in northern Michigan but throughout the whole Lake Superior district and other prolific iron sources the world over.

Briefly, beneficiation is man's method of hurrying a process that Nature started but did not complete or failed to start at all. It is intended to improve the grade or structure, or both, of iron ore. In the beginning, iron ore was locked in a solid rock formation, mixed with silica, phosphorus, sulphur and other matter. But in some spots water, seeping down from the surface or percolating up from below, slowly washed away most of the silica and other waste materials. Here, Nature completed her task. The result was "direct shipping" ore, about 50 per cent of it pure iron.

Elsewhere, she did no job at all, and the original rock formation, containing from 20 to 30 per cent of iron, remained untouched. In both instances, through beneficiation, man in a few hours helps along the job Mother Nature takes eons to do, changing a low grade ore to a high grade or "rich" ore.

Beneficiation consists of treating these low grade ores by screening, crushing, washing, tabling, settling or jigging, and sometimes by a combination of two or more of these methods. Present methods are extremely costly, and are not on a profitable commercial basis. Admittedly, they are far from perfect. Mining interests in Minnesota, where there is much low grade ore, estimated at 60 billion tons and known locally as taconite and the State of Minnesota are giving considerable thought to beneficiation and the improvement of its processes. They recognize that in beneficiation lies the long-term future of their investment and the industry.

Five Plants In Michigan

There are 50 beneficiation plants in the Lake Superior ranges. Five of them are in Michigan, at Negaunee, Ishpeming, Gwinn and two at Palmer. All five are of the crushing type. In 1909, just before beneficiation was practiced on a large scale, 16,384 tons were so treated in Michigan, or about 0.12 per cent of total shipments. In 1945, 15,500,000 tons, or about 24 per cent of the ore shipped from the Lake Superior ranges, was beneficiated.

The story simmers down to this—that iron mining in the Upper Peninsula will cease in measurable time from exhaustion of ore is not the present concern, but that productive capacity of the mines will decline below needs, costs will rise and the expensive task of producing taconite, three tons of material are required to produce a ton of iron, will have to be undertaken. It is figured that taconite mining shortly will be supplementing the supply of natural ore, and eventually will largely supplant it, and that to get 50,000,000 tons of ore from taconite annually will require an investment of $400,000,000 in plants.

Leaders Not Frightened

Upper Michigan mining leaders are alert to but not frightened by this prospect. Around beneficiation they are preparing to build the long-term future of the "Iron Country" which, they insist, has vastly more recoverable iron than statistics on reserves indicate and which is far from being "petered out."

City Face Lifting Is Discussed By American Legion

Munising—An action program of the American Legion Post No. 131 for next year was discussed at the meeting held Monday evening in the Legion Club.

Face lifting and dressing up of the city of Munising is part of the program. This will include both private and public property. The possibility and feasibility of ragweed extermination in the area was also discussed.

Along with the cleaning up of the city, they expressed a desire to keep the city clean of drunks. The idea was not to try to stop drinking, but to put it undercover, and when drunks appear on the streets to have them taken immediately out of sight.

John Hebert suggested the erection of a permanent memorial to the Veterans of World War II, who gave their lives for their country. This would be in the Tree Planting Program In Hiawatha National Forest To Begin Today

Munising — The largest tree planting program in the Hiawatha National Forest since 1940 will begin this (Wednesday) morning when a crew of from 50 to 60 men will begin the planting of 1,500,000 seedlings.

Rowland W. Blair, Ranger in charge of the local Forest Ranger station, said the men are expected to be employed until about the first of November and what isn't finished then will be completed next spring.

The planting will cover a total of 12,000 acres and will be done in three different areas, he said.

Tree planters are urgently needed for this new project which is expected to run until November 1. The wages are 75c per hour and a 40 hour week. Transportation will be provided to and from planting site.

Those interested are asked to apply either to the Munising office of USES or directly to the Office of the District Forest Ranger in Munising.

Ohio Radio Preacher Conducts Services At Van Meer Church

Munising—Rev. Frank Brower, of Lima, Ohio, is conducting missionary preaching services at the Van Meer Baptist church, this week and next, except Saturday evenings. The services begin each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Brower is a brother of Arthur Brower, former pastor of the Van Meer Baptist church, now stationed in Africa as a missionary.

Rev. Brower conducts a regular program over a Lima, Ohio radio station. He provides a portion of the music for the program by singing duets with his five year old son, Phillip.

Little Phillip has caught the hearts of those attending the Van Meer Services with his clear voice, and he has been acclaimed a real singer. He also sings over the radio with his dad.

LORETTA'S PARTY — Loretta Therese Maki, daughter of Mrs. Edith Maki, celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary Saturday, by entertaining eleven guests at her home in Island View Addition.

Games were played, and a delicious lunch was served, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Those who attended were: Maureen Karen Maki, Diane and Junior Trzevicki, Judith Ann Balon, Mary Beth Vinsko, James Brude, Paul and Francis Schroeder, Wayne and Judith Maki, and Dennis Maki.

Loretta received many lovely gifts.

SKI CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

Officers To Be Named, New Type Ski Tow Discussed

The annual meeting of the Gladstone Ski Club will be held tonight at the clubhouse on the Days River.

Of interest will be the nomination of a slate of officers for the ensuing year.

Forming the nominating committee are Harold Mackie, Robert Hup, E. C. Olson, Mrs. Ray Gatz, and Mrs. Lawrence Louis.

The proposal to erect a new ski tow on the front hill will be a topic for discussion. If erected it will be of a type which is easily dismantled so that it may be removed from the fairway during the summer months or golf season.

Tentative plans for the coming ski season will be talked over at the session.

Harold Schumacher

Carl Sturmer, Port Huron, and Harold Schumacher, Lansing, president and manager of the Michigan Retail Hardware association, will be speakers at a district meeting of hardware men from three counties to be held at the Yacht club this evening.

CCC Building Will Be Used As Youth Center

A 120-foot building from Camp Cooks, a former CCC camp, will be moved to Gladstone and erected on the site of the old city hall to be used as a gathering place for organized youth groups of the city.

It was decided at a regular meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

The building is being donated to the city by the U. S. Forest Service.

It is planned to cut the building into four 30-foot sections and reassemble the structure after it is brought here. Bids will be sought on the moving, and will be accepted up until 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, Sept. 16.

It was also decided to move the Trailer Park from the VanCleave park on Lake Shore to Block 99 situated between Montana and Minneapolis avenues and 15th and 16th streets.

Laying of a block of sewer in North 15th will be done by municipal workmen, no bids having been received on the project. Monday at 5 o'clock was the deadline for acceptance of bids.

Permission was given Joseph Polich to connect to the sewer at 16th and Michigan avenue.

Payment of dues in the amount of $82.50 to the Michigan Municipal league was authorized.

Mrs. Alton Hoover Tells Rotarians Of Belgium During War

A word picture of what the people of Belgium went through during World War II was presented before the Gladstone Rotary club by Mrs. Alton Hoover, native of Antwerp, who married a Gladstone man at the war's end and is now making her home here.

After the Germans overtook Belgium, able-bodied Belgian men were forced to work in German industry and even some of the women were impressed into the ranks of German labor. Many others were placed in concentration camps.

British and American bombing of transportation centers and rail lines and the shortage of food didn't make things very pleasant within the speaker's native country. However, when there was an air alarm and the bombs were falling, the Belgians hoped they would hit the targets selected.

Mrs. Hoover, then Mia Ceuppens, worked for a time for the Germans but at the same time worked with the Belgian underground. She later was employed by the British and still later, after the arrival of the Americans, worked in the transportation division for the Yanks.

A linguist, with knowledge of five languages, Mrs. Hoover said her English came last and was learned through association with English and Americans.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Hoover and Earl Lynn.

RECORD TROUT CAUGHT HERE

Two Largest Fish This Season Pulled In On Monday

Munising—Two of the largest lake trout hauled in this season were caught off Alger county shores of Lake Superior Monday September 9. One ran 47 pounds and the other 41 pounds.

Waino Roose was the lucky one catching the larger fish. Measurements were 48 inches long and 30 inches girth. He took the huge fish with a No. 7 50-50 brass and silver spoon. He was trolling in his own boat in the Shelter Bay area.

Bob Matson, piloting Phil Lepphart's boat, Patsy Ann, brought in the 41 pounder. It measured 42 inches in length and 27 inches girth. It was taken on a home-made pole with a No. 7 herring scale lure. The boat was operating out of Munising Bay.

RETURNS HOMEArrived Here Saturday
From Five-Week's Trip In Holland

The Rev. Fr. B. J. P. Schevers, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, returned Saturday from his native Holland where he has been visiting for the past five weeks.

The journeys, over the ocean and the return trip, were made by plane, shortening by many days the time required for travel, but due to illness in the nature of a light stroke, which he suffered just before he was about to return home, he did not get to see as much of his old homeland as he had first intended. His doctor had ordered a complete rest for at least a week, which order Father Schevers complied with and that had the desired effect of restoring him to a satisfactory state of health and enabling him to take up his pastoral duties here where he left off.

The ravages of war, Father Schevers naturally found very depressing, but he found great encouragement in the fact that Holland is mastering its postwar problems in commendable fashion. Cities ravished by the invader have been cleared of rubble and, in spite of building material shortages even more serious than here, much reconstruction has taken place.

France Conditions Bad
Travel conditions, he said, are wretched. Train service to distant points is all but impossible because nearly all of the railroad bridges have been destroyed. Means of travel is confined to busses or army lorries. The busses are in a poor state of repair and limited in number so much of the travel has to be done in the army trucks. He rode a considerable distance in one of the latter type of vehicles with thirty-five other passengers—standing all the way, going over roads that were at times very rough as they had suffered severely in the war and had not as yet been fully repaired.

In spite of these handicaps, he was able to cover much ground in the few weeks allotted him and to visit many friends.

He found all of his cousins well and unscathed by the late war. All of them, however, had suffered the loss of their homes.

Agriculturally Holland is making good progress toward normalcy, although it will be several years before it can hope to return to its pre-war status, said Father Schevers. The lowland areas, which were flooded by the invaders, have been pumped dry again and much of the area is in crop. In some instances, Father Schevers stated, the soil has been improved by its recent flooding.

Father Schevers left New York on July 31 and arrived in Amsterdam, Holland, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Two stops were made enroute—one at New Foundland and one in Shannon, Ireland, about 9:30 in the morning. In the stop of about an hour at Shannon, he enjoyed a brief visit with old friends.

Leaving Amsterdam, he tarried at Andhoven, later at Heeswyk and later Schynel. He made many short journeys over practically all of the country.

It had been ten years since he had last seen Holland and he found the trip a wonderful experience; but he adds that he was always glad to get back into the Good Old U. S. A. and to Manistique, Mich.

Dr. A. J. Radgens,
Father Of Local
Dentist, Is Dead

Word was received here late Monday of the death in Detroit of Dr. Alfred J. Radgens Sr., father of Dr. Alfred J. Radgens Jr., Manistique dentist. Death was attributed to a heart attack, which he suffered early in July, and from which he failed to rally. He was 67 years old.

Dr. Radgens was born and educated in Detroit, graduating from the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery in 1902. He practiced medicine (specializing in obstetrics) in Detroit until 1927, when he retired from active practice of medicine and devoted much of his time to various organizations and to travel.

Besides his son, Dr. Alfred J. Radgens Jr., he is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. William K. Brett, a practicing attorney in Detroit; one brother, Dr. Paul A. Radgens, also of Detroit; and six grandchildren, Alfred III, Gloria, Michael and Patrick Radgens of Manistique, and Billy and Barbara Brett of Detroit.

Funeral services which are tentatively set for Thursday, will be held from the residence, 4041 West Outer Drive.

Dr. and Mrs. Radgens and family have left to attend.

Miss Siddall
Is Married To Calumet Man

Miss Bertha May Siddall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Siddall, 640 Michigan avenue, became the bride of Wesley Arnold Rantala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rantala, of Calumet, at a double-ring ceremony performed Monday, September 9, in the Methodist church in Manistique. The vows were exchanged at 4 o'clock before the Rev. H. G. Cowdick.

Baskets of vari-colored gladioli, autumn leaves, fall flowers, and white tapers in silver holders, which were placed on white draped pedestals, decorated the altar of the church.

The organist, Mrs. Kenneth Musson, cousin of the bride, played two selections, Schubert's "Serenade" and "Alp Malde's Dream." The bride entered the church on the arm of her father as the organist played the traditional "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin. During the service Mrs. H. E. Cowdick sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played at the recessional.

Attending the couple were Mrs. O. A. Anderson, the former Merle Siddall, sister of the bride, of Camden, Ark., and John Kepsel, Ushers were Alvin Siddall and Lars R. Olson.

The bride was attractive in a floor length gown of embroidered white satin. She wore a fingertip veil, edged in matching lace, which was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white pom-poms. She carried out the old tradition of wearing something old (a necklace of her grandmother's), something new, something borrowed, and something blue. Her matron of honor wore an aqua color gown and a shoulder-length veil, held in place by aqua flowers in her hair. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white pom-poms.

Mrs. Siddall, the bride's mother, chose for her daughter's wedding a black and white nylon satin dress with black and white accessories. Her shoulder spray was of pink roses which matched a pink feather in her black hat.

Forty guests attended the wedding reception which was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The table was centered with lavender and white petunias balanced by a silver coffee serving set on one end and the bride and groom cakes on the other. A pedestal, covered with white material identical to the bride's gown, and topped with a miniature bride and groom, was placed between the two cakes.

The young couple left later for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the bride wearing a traveling, a gray green dress of wool jersey, and a white smoke coat and hat. Her accessories were black.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and attended Northern Michigan College of Education. She held a teaching position in nearby schools and for the past three years has been employed at the Thompson State Fish Hatchery. The bridegroom attended schools in Calumet and Detroit, and was recently discharged from the service after serving for 24 months in the European theater. He is also employed at the Thompson State Fish Hatchery.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Rantala will make their home in Manistique. Out-of-town relatives at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Orville Anderson, Camden, Ark., and Mrs. Kenneth Musson and son, Kenny Jim, of Richmond, Mich.

TWO BUILDING
PERMITS OK'DCouncil Grants Wehner
And Hoholik Brothers
Right To Build

Approval of the 1946-47 school budget and the granting of two building permits highlighted the activities of the Manistique City Council at its regular meeting on Monday evening.

Favorable consideration of the budget gives the O. K. to the annual school expense account which was recently set by the school board at $138,650 or $18,000 higher than that of last year.

Applications for building licenses by Paul Wehner and Hoholik Brothers were approved by the council. Wehner will build a fire-proof structure to replace his mill-work establishment at 119 Walnut street. The second story will be made into four apartments.

The permit given to Hoholik Brothers was for the construction of a dairy plant at the corner of Deer and Chippewa. The building will be of concrete and brick and 44x70 feet in size.

Dr. E. J. Brenner, county health director, appeared before the council to explain that in procuring samples of milk for analysis at the State Laboratory at Powers, every precaution is taken to see that this milk is in the same state when it arrives at the laboratory as it was when the samples are taken. The containers in which the samples are sent are sterilized and as soon as the samples are taken they are packed in ice containers and taken to Powers immediately by the sanitarian, Dr. Brenner explained. He made this explanation, he said, to correct impressions the public may have had that samples with high bacteria count might have got that way while in transit to the laboratory.

Dr. Brenner also added that he shall insist that sanitary regulations be maintained wherever food or drinks are sold in the city because "if any epidemic breaks out, I am the one who is held responsible."

John Linsberg was present to ask that city water mains be extended to his residence at the corner of Cataragus and Arbutus streets. He agreed to bear the $382 that the city would require for the installation of this service. This amount will be paid for in five annual installments.

The city attorney was instructed to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and state the council's wishes with reference to the discontinuance of Soo Trains 86 and 87. The council is asking that these trains be maintained if possible.

WILL DISCUSS
SPUD MARKETSMeeting To Be Held At
Cooks Thursday Evening

Merchandising of Michigan potatoes, with a view of increasing the demand for the product, will be the theme of the discussion at a meeting of potato growers at the Cooks school on the evening of Thursday, September 12.

There will be talks and discussions led by agricultural experts provided through the courtesy of the Detroit Board of Trade which is taking great interest in the promotion of Michigan produced potatoes and the improvement of marketing methods. This organization is providing men to go out into the state and create a state-wide set-up for the merchandising of the potatoes so that they can compete successfully with potatoes of other states.

The meeting at Cooks, which is being arranged for by Joseph Heiman, county agent, will have for its purpose the organizing of farmers in this area into a unit that will become a part of the state organization made up of farmers, buyers and shippers.

"We know how to grow potatoes," says County Agent Heiman, "but we are far behind other states in marketing. We have now arrived at the point when something has to be done with marketing of our Michigan crop or Maine and Idaho will take our markets away, even though they are long distant from our markets."

The county agent adds that it is an urgent matter and that every

Tigers Lick Red Sox, 9-1, Grab Second Place As Yankees Lose

FLAG CLINCHING STALLED AGAIN

Four Boston Hurlers Nicked For 14 Hits With 3 Homers

Detroit, Sept. 10 (AP)—The run-away Boston Red Sox, needing only one victory over the Detroit Tigers to clinch the American League flag, were stalled again today as the Tigers halted them their fourth straight licking, 9 to 1.

Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning off Mickey Harris sent the Tigers off to a flying start and they coasted in back of Freddie Hutchinson's seven-hit pitching to grab second place from the New York Yankees, who lost at Cleveland.

The Tigers gave three Boston lefthanders and Righthander Mace Brown rude treatment by walloping out 14 hits as everybody but Skeeter Webb got at least one safety.

Hank Greenberg hoisted his 32nd homer into the upper left field stands off Earl Johnson in the fifth and Ted Williams produced Boston's only run by belting his 36th four-bagger into the third deck in the sixth.

Hutchinson, who struck out nine men, five of them in the first two innings, was at his best with men on the bases.

He struck out Bobby Doerr and Rudy York with the bases loaded in the first inning and got York on strikes again in the eighth when the Sox loaded the bases with nobody out and again failed to score.

Di Mag's Blows Wasted

A good week-day crowd of 15,796 paying customers turned out to get in on the pennant clinching but the festivities were delayed chiefly by Hutchinson, who hung up his second straight win over the league-leaders after losing to them four times straight.

Mickey Harris simply didn't have it, retiring after four innings after yielding seven hits and four runs.

Only Tiger hit off Johnson in the two innings he worked was Greenberg's homer but after he was removed for a pinch-hitter Detroit took up the heavy clubwork again. The Tigers jumped on Clem Dreisewerd for four hits and four more runs before knocking him out of the box in the eighth. Brown gave up two singles but induced George Kell to hit into a double play with the bases loaded to stop the slaughter.

Dom Di Maggio personally accounted for three of Boston's seven licks off Hutchinson but all of them were wasted.

By moving ahead of the Yankees, Detroit occupied second place for the first time since August 2, thanks to a bulge of three points in the percentage column.

Detroit and Boston meet again here tomorrow with Dave Ferriss matched against Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

CARDINALS GET 2-GAME EDGE

Philadelphia, Sept. 10 (AP)—The pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals opened their final eastern trip of the season tonight with a 4 to 1 win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The victory gave the Cards a two-game edge over the pursuing Brooklyn Dodgers.

A crowd of 30,085 watched the Cards decide the game in the opening inning.

Behind Harry Brecheen's six-hit pitching the Red Birds rapped their former teammate, Blix Donnelly, for four hits and three runs in the first. Red Schoendienst singled to center, took third on Harry Walker's single to right and scored on Stan Musial's fly to left.

Enos Slaughter forced Walker at second but Whitey Kurowski tripled to right, sending Slaughter across. Kurowski tallied on Dick Sisler's single.

The Cards added a final run in the eighth on a walk, a single and a sacrifice.

Donnelly scored the only Phil run in the third. He singled, went to second on Skeeter Newsome's one-bagger and scored on Charley Gilbert's single.

The victory gave Brecheen a season record of 13 victories and as many defeats.

It enabled the Cards to retain a two-game lead over the Dodgers whose 8-0 victory over Cincinnati earlier in the day brought them temporarily to within one and one-half games of the National League leaders.

Score by innings:
St. Louis 300 000 010-4 8 0
Philadelphia 001 000 000-1 6 2
Brecheen and Garagiola; Donnelly, Mulligan (9) and Seminick.

Hopeful Brownies Bunch Hits, Take Athletics, 5 to 1

St. Louis, Sept. 10 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, still hoping to top the American League second division, bunched three singles, a walk and an infield out for two runs in the seventh inning tonight to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 1.

Two more Brownie tallies were chalked up in the eighth, one when catcher Lester Moss was hit by reliever pitcher Russ Christopher after he had loaded the bases with walks and another on pitcher Cliff Fanning's infield hit.

The only marker off Fanning, who struck out five and kept eight blows scattered, came in the sixth on Gene Handley's bunt, an infield out and Barney McCosky's single.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia 000 001 000-1 8 0
St. Louis 000 000 22X-5 8 0
Fowler, Christopher (7) and Rosar; Fanning and Moss.

BRAVES CLOSING IN ON CHICAGO

Sain Outlasts Five Cubs Pitchers To Register 10 To 2 Victory

Boston, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Boston Braves today climbed within three and a half games of third place Chicago by defeating the Cubs 10-2 behind Johnny Sain who outlasted five Chicago pitchers for his 17th victory.

Tom Neill, up from Birmingham's Southern Association Barons, made his major league debut. In five trips to the plate Neill walked and singled, scored twice and knocked in one run. In the field he made one putout and made a great try to pick Bob Scheffing's double off the left field wall.

The Braves went right to town at the expense of Hank Borowy in the second when they combined three hits and two walks for three runs.

The Cubs picked up their first run in the second and added the other in the fourth. The Braves added two in the fifth and notched their last run in the sixth.

Defeat By Pirates Drops Giants Down Close To Basement

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Pittsburgh opened its last eastern trip of the season tonight with a 7-4 victory over New York that dropped the Giants to within four percentage points of the last place Pirates.

Al Gerheuser hurled two-hit ball after coming to the relief of Rip Sewell who had been knocked out of the box by Johnny Rucker's second inning homer.

Bob Elliott drove in three of the Pirates runs off Ken Trinkle, who absorbed his 13th loss while Gerheuser was picking up his second win of the year.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh 202 002 100-7 7 1
New York 030 000 010-4 6 2
Sewell, Gerheuser (2) and Salkeld; Trinkle, Kennedy (7), Schumacher (7), Grissom (8) and Gladd.

Tokyo, prior to the war, was the world's third largest city.

The Northern Wisconsin-Michigan baseball league will operate as a 10-team circuit in 1947 with new franchises being allocated to Marinette and South Range. The other clubs are those who operated in the NWM League the past season—Niagara, Channing, Iron Mountain, Crystal Falls, Negaunee Escanaba, Iron Mountain-Kingsford, and Iron River. Buck Erickson of Iron Mountain, was reelected president of the league at the meeting held in Crystal Falls Sunday, and Henry Torretti, of Iron Mountain, was appointed secretary-treasurer.

The league has established a 14-day limit for makeup of rained-out games with an additional five days for each subsequent rain-out of the same contest. This was done

INDIANS POLISH OFF NEW YORK

Defeat, 4-2, Eliminates Bombers As Pennant Possibility

Cleveland, Sept. 10 (AP)—Steve Gromek and the Cleveland Indians eliminated the New York Yankees from the American League pennant race today by defeating the New Yorkers, 4-2.

Gromek, who beat the Yankees five straight times without a loss last season, limited the Yanks to five hits including Tommy Henrich's 19th round-tripper of the season in the third inning.

The Tribe, paced by Don Ross, collected seven safeties off Spud Chandler, who was seeking his 18th win of the year.

The loss brought the Yanks' season won and lost record to 79 and 59 with 16 games left to play while the League Leading Boston Red Sox sport a 96 and 44 mark with 14 games left to play. Only the Detroit Tigers who beat the Sox today and advanced over the Yanks into second place remain in the running for the flag.

The Tigers have a 77 and 57 record and 20 contests left.

The game was halted 55 minutes during the Cleveland half of the sixth because of rain but all of the scoring had been done in the first four rounds.

New York led 2-0 going into the bottom half of the third when Ross homered for the Tribe's first run. In the fourth, the Indians clinched the game with a three-run rally that was highlighted by Ross' two-run, bases loaded single.

93 GRIDDERS ON EHS SQUAD

Eskymo Football Team Plays Soo Here Saturday

If there is strength in numbers, Coach George Ruwicht needn't be worried about his Escanaba high school football squad as there are no less than 93 candidates seeking positions on the Eskymo team.

Unfortunately, however, Coach Ruwicht can't find much satisfaction in the record football turnout because the lads are woefully inexperienced, even though eager and ambitious.

In line with the theory that a football team can be no better than the quality of its blocking and tackling, the Eskymos have devoted many long hours to these essential fundamentals. Much progress has been indicated but the results have not caused any spontaneous cheers from the Eskymo coaching staff.

The Escanaba team will open its season here next Saturday against the Soo Blue Devils, a team that, like the Eskymos, seems destined for only a mediocre role in the scramble for peninsula football honors. The Blue Devils lost many of their stars through graduation in June and Coach Ripley faces the same rebuilding job that confronts Coach Ruwicht.

Coach Ruwicht has already picked the cream of the 93-man squad for his varsity group, 33 aspirants having been selected for varsity competition. The remaining 60 lads have been turned over to Assistant Coach Jim Rouman for further seasoning with the reserves, who will play a schedule of four or five games during the course of the season.

Varsity Squad

PLAN OCTOBER POTATO SHOWS

Upper Peninsula Show
Scheduled Oct. 30
At Iron River

Potato growers of the Upper Peninsula are looking forward to the county and U. P. state potato shows which will be held in late October, following the potato harvest season. Iron River this year will be host to the U. P. show which will be held Oct. 29-31.

Ten Upper Peninsula counties are planning county potato shows, in which the winners will send their samples to the U. P. show for competition and awards. Through a system of using two judges, some county shows will be held on the same date. The Delta county potato show is scheduled for Oct. 24, Schoolcraft Oct. 23, Dickinson Oct. 22, and Menominee Oct. 25.

At the Upper Peninsula show exhibits will be entered the first day, with judging to take place the second, including the judging of the premier grower's contest and grading contest.

On Thursday, Oct. 31, the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Potato Growers association will be held, with a banquet in the evening at which awards will be announced. Premium books for the U. P. potato show are available at the office of E. A. Wenner, Delta county agricultural agent.

There are classes for representative tablestock exhibits, certified seed, and individual entries of Rural Russets, Green Mountains, Chippewas, Pontiacs, Sebagoes and other varieties. There are also 4-H Club exhibits and several special contests.

Included on the U. P. Potato Growers association board of directors are Ted McFadden of Cornwell and Jules VanDamme, Delta county potato farmers.

Briefly Told

Civic Theater Meets—All former members of the Civic theater who are interested in reorganizing will meet Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Karl Gray, 810 Lake Shore Drive.

Notified of Death—Mrs. Harry Hooker of Lansing, an aunt of Mrs. Joseph H. Shipman of Escanaba died in Los Angeles Saturday evening, according to a telegram received by Mrs. Shipman.

Apply For License—Applications for marriage licenses have been made at the office of the county clerk by Gerald Thibault and Alva E. Boudreau of Garden; Hubert Z. Heatwole of Washington, D. C. and Ruth J. Moras of Escanaba; Melvin Sebeck of Gladstone and Therese Hurkmans of Escanaba; Leon Verne Rice and Edna Ruby Bassett of Manistique.

Improved—The condition of Mrs. John S. Back, 1510 11th avenue north, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Harris township Sunday, is reported as somewhat improved.

"I Used to Weigh 170 Lbs.!"

Mrs. D. M. Hawkins, Texas

Now she weighs 119 lbs., a loss of 51 lbs., thanks to delicious AYDS Vitamin Candy Reducing Plan. Mrs. Hawkins (119 lbs. at right) also lost 11 in. in waist, 10 in. in hips and 8 in. in bust. Your experience may or may not be the same but try this easier reducing plan. Very First Box Must Show Results or Money Back.

In clinical tests, conducted by medical doctors, more than 100 persons lost 14 to 15 pounds average in a few weeks with the AYDS Vitamin Candy Reducing Plan.

No exercise. No drugs. No laxatives. You don't cut out any meals, starches, potatoes, meats or butter—you just cut them down. Simple when you enjoy delicious AYDS Vitamin Candy as directed. Absolutely harmless. 30 days' supply nutritious AYDS $2.25. NOW, phone or call at

Old Subscribers Receive Priority On Phone Service

Telephone subscribers who move to a new location in the same exchange are now placed in the first order of preference for restoration of their telephone service, the Michigan Bell Telephone company announced.

Formerly, residential customers who moved from one address to another were placed in group six of the Civilian Production Administration's priority system governing telephone service.

The amendment by CPA of its U-2 priority order grants addiported as somewhat improved. Mrs. Back is in St. Francis hospital.

tional preference for approximately 1,500 families on the Telephone Company's waiting list, including 9 in this community.

There are approximately 90,000 applicants throughout Michigan Bell territory now waiting for service. This figure includes 85 in this exchange.

G. A. Marcouiller, manager for the company, said the job of reviewing all its held orders has been completed. Those that are affected by the new order have been moved up.

"A group one priority will not of itself insure telephone service," G. A. Marcouiller said. "Most of our orders are delayed because of a shortage of telephone cable. A priority does not make any more cable available. It does, however, give group one applicants first opportunity for facilities as they are released by customers discontinuing service."
